Financial Literacy Exhibits

- Exhibits must focus on financial literacy/financial education.
- Exhibits must fit on a 3'x6' tabletop. (Floor exhibits may be restricted by U.S. House of Representatives rules.)
- Exhibits may not be used to sell financial products or services or to open new accounts. No sales of any kind are permitted onsite.
- Additional rules and details can be found in the Exhibitor Agreement that all Exhibitors will be required to sign. All Exhibitors must follow rules set by the U. S. House of Representatives.

Shipping/Set-Up

- Exhibitors are encouraged to ship exhibit materials to JumpStart's logistics coordinator in advance of the event. (Instructions will be provided after you register.) Please do not send materials to the JumpStart office or the Rayburn House Office Building.
- Pre-shipped exhibit materials will be delivered to your exhibit space.
- Exhibitors may also hand carry materials the day of the event in boxes that fit through the Rayburn House Office Building's security equipment.
- Set up will take place the morning of the event. Times are set by the U.S. House of Representatives and a schedule will be provided prior to the event.
- Exhibitors may pack up their own materials at the end and provide a pre-paid FedEx or UPS label for JumpStart to handle return shipping.

Please direct your questions to Josh.Sandler@jumpstart.org or Stacey.Gardiner@tggroup.com.

* Prospective Partners that submit an application and are accepted as a new partner this year can apply their Hill Day exhibitor fee to their first year's dues.
